WE ARE LOOKING FOR A

Lead Creative Coder Hard & Software

YOUR TASKS

We are looking for an experienced, curious and open-minded technical all-rounder who would like to develop the topic of prototyping as part of our design agency.

- Construction of demonstrators in different configuration stages as implementation of new operating concepts (web, desktop, mobile, multimodal interfaces, hardware-near, IoT etc.)
- Conception, technology consulting & research - internally and externally (architecture, selection of frameworks, creation of technology roadmaps etc.)
- You coordinate the cooperation with technical service providers, are responsible for quality control and carry out code reviews.
- You actively support our agency in the further development of our workflows.

YOUR NEW TEAM

Iconstorm is an agency for the design of digital products. We believe in the importance of good design and create meaningful innovations. In our spacious rooms in Frankfurt's West-end district, we work on sophisticated design and innovation projects for international corporations, forward-thinking medium-sized companies and ambitious start-ups. We are charged with creativity, attention to detail and a clear claim to leadership in digital change. Our high expectations – in us, our projects and the quality of our results – characterise our daily work.
